Mike Williams, Forest Supervisor
Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest
Attention: Methow Headwaters Mineral Withdrawal
215 Melody Lane
Wenatchee, WA 98801

Dear Mr. Williams:

The Mountaineers recently collected electronic signatures and comments in support of the 20-year withdrawal from settlement, sale, location, and entry under the public land laws, location and entry under the United States mining laws, and operation of the mineral and geothermal leasing laws for 340,079 acres of National Forest System lands, Methow Ranger District, Okanogan-Wenatchee National Forest, in Okanogan County, Washington.

Please find the petition language and 1,189 electronic signatures attached.

Thank you for your consideration,

Katherine Hollis
Conservation and Advocacy Director

PETITION

Dear Mr. Williams,

As an outdoor enthusiast who cares deeply about the Methow Valley and outdoor recreation, I support a 20-year mineral withdrawal of 340,079 acres of U.S. Forest Service land in the Methow Headwaters of Washington state. These lands should be declared off-limits to any new mining activities while Congressional leaders work on a permanent solution to protect this landscape.

The Methow Valley is one of the state's most unique and special places. Its rural character, clean, cold waters, and natural beauty support a resilient economy based on outdoor recreation, scenic tourism, agriculture, and fish and wildlife. Nearly one million visitors come to the Methow Valley annually to enjoy the sun, snow, streams, wildlife and rural community, and they contribute more than $150 million annually into Okanogan County's economy. Statewide, the outdoor recreation economy generates more than $26 billion in consumer spending and 200,000 jobs. The Methow Headwaters provide the lifeblood that supports the valley, its economy, and the area's residents and visitors.

Without the added level of protection of a mineral withdrawal, these vital lands and water resources are gravely threatened by the development of a large-scale copper mine near Flagg Mountain above the town of Mazama and other future industrial mining operations in the larger watershed. Such development threatens to bring heavy truck traffic and industrial activity to this rural valley, and the prospect of significant visual impacts, wildlife disruption, and the degradation of the pristine streams that flow from the headwaters and feed the valley and lands beyond.

Large-scale mine development in the Methow Headwaters is in direct conflict with the qualities that underpin the valley's successful and sustainable economy. It also undermines many years of community efforts to maintain the area's unique rural character. Such development in the Methow Headwaters is misplaced and would devastate much of what makes the area successful. Please protect these public lands and rivers through a 20-year mineral withdrawal.
